GLENDALE MERCHANTS EXPOSITION OPENS TONIGHT

Battle Rages Between West Virginia Miners and Officers

PALACE IS LOOTED AND BURNED BY RIOTERS IN INDIA

Huge Tent to be Opened to General Public with Novelty Shows in a Program of Popular Entertainment---Pink Lemonade and Hot Dogs Ready to Attack All Visitors Unarmed with Popcorn.

Steady, now, ladies and gentlemen! Please don't crowd. There is room for all! There is a generous supply of pink lemonade on hand!

Of course, Glendale is going to turn out to a man to the grand opening of the Glendale Merchants' Exposition in the mammoth tent on the Glendale High School campus tonight.

It is a foregone conclusion that Jim Smith and Tom Jones and Dr. Perkins and all the fellows who live on the west side and over in the east section and, in fact, everybody's brother and his dad are going to be on hand to see the big doings and to buy a sack of those good peanuts. That's a sure thing.

Five Thousand Expected

The stage is all set for 5,000 people. The management has made elaborate arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the thousands of Glendale residents and visitors who will be on hand to start this, the finest thing of its kind ever held in Glendale, off to its wonderful run. This exposition promises to be a revelation to all those who attend. The person who thinks that Glendale Merchants are back numbers need only to attend this show to see that their "home town" merchants are on the job when it comes to offering styles that are right-up-to-the-minute. The management of this show declares there is no city in Southern California where the styles are more modern and where the values are more honest than right here in Glendale. It is claimed that this will be demonstrated conclusively at the exposition which opens tonight.

Living Manikins

Possibly, the leading feature of the exposition except for the exhibits themselves, will be the living manikins which will be used to show the different styles of goods to be found in Glendale. Some of these will be movie stars, others will be artists models, while others will be celebrated beauties from various points. It is understood that Miss Viola Dolan, a star of the William Fox studio, will be one of the headliners in this fashion show display. There will be other beauties who will serve to make this fashion review a feature of unusual interest.

There will be a bathing girl parade, too—nuf sed!

Elaborate Program

For the opening night at this exhibition, big things have been promised. There will be an elaborate program, which will be opened by an address by Mayor Spencer Robinson. Everyone in Glendale knows "Spence," and as many as know him realize also that when he embarks on a riot of oratory there is a laugh in every sentence. He has promised faithfully to take at least one of his celebrated "laugh powders" before coming to the big tent, which means that there is a scream in store for those who manage to squeege into the canvas-covered auditorium by 7 o'clock, the time set for the starting of the "fireworks." Mayor Robinson's speech will be followed by an address of welcome by H. Elmo La Breque, managing director of the exposition company. After this will be a grand review of the greatest display of merchandise ever held under one roof by the merchants of Glendale. This will be followed by music by the Exposition Versatile Five, musical entertainers, who will provide some vaudeville numbers equal to those to be seen on any stage. There will be music, frivolities, songs, specialities. Gold and merchandise will be given away as prizes in contests which will be held every afternoon and twice each evening.

Miss Marlowe's Revue

On the opening night Miss Classie Marlowe, one of the leading beauties of California, will make her appear-

ROYALIST CRISIS IS SEEN IN GERMAN ASSASSINATION

Militarist Display in Recent Celebrations — Royalist Suspected of Murder

BRLIN, Aug. 27.—The assassination of Mathias Erzberger, former chancellor and minister of finance, near Offenburg, Baden, marks a crisis in the increasing royalist and militarist activities in Germany, it was admitted today.

It is believed that the militarist and monarchist revival was responsible for the murder of Erzberger, who was a bulwark of republicanism and orderly observance of the treaty of Versailles.

Royalist and militarist activities have been more marked this week than at any other time since the armistice. Prince Eitel Frederich and General Ludendorff reviewed the German world war veterans in a great military display in this city and the ex-kaiser sent messages showing sympathy for the demonstration. It is understood that militarist revivals have been planned throughout all Germany. Army officers are again appearing in the streets in full uniform and decorations and the old military spirit is showing itself in other ways.

The government will take precautions to prevent outbreaks when the funeral is held.

CALIFORNIA BANKS STRONG

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—The banking structure of the Twelfth Federal Reserve district grows progressively stronger, John Perrin, federal reserve agent, announced in his monthly report on agricultural and business conditions in the district today.

Reporting member banks numbering 67 did not increase their loans and discounts during July, compared with June, Perrin points out, money deposited with them by their customers from sales of early products evidently being sufficient to care for demands incident to later harvesting and marketing operations.

Some other features of the business situation brought out by the report are:

Volume of movement of goods at retail exceeds that at wholesale.

Average decline in price of goods for year at retail, 20 per cent.

Building permits in July outnumbered those of the same month a year ago by 25 per cent.

July bank clearings 22 percent less than those of year ago.

Business failures for July were, with one exception, greatest in 18 months both in number and liabilities.

Unemployment during July approximately same as in June.

Despite Contradictory Reports It Is Indicated That Revolting, Armed Miners Clashed With Officers in Logan County—Warfare Began at Midnight

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Aug. 27.

Fighting in Logan county was in progress apparently early today, according to reports received here.

Sheriff Don Chafin of Logan county, wired military headquarters here that the detachment of 100 men of the army of invasion that entered Logan county near Sharless yesterday and agreed to disband, had seized the special train furnished to transport them back to Marmet. They ran the train to the terminal of the Coal river branch near Blair, which is in Logan county, then marched on through the village in the direction of Logan, avoiding contact with Logan county officers.

In his message the sheriff stated there had been fighting throughout the night and that so far the invaders had been repulsed. He reported he is still in command of the situation. No estimate of the casualties could be obtained from him because all the fighting had taken place in the dark.

Sheriff Chafin renewed his appeal for help from Mingo county and a force of 100 regular state policemen together with volunteer state police, state militiamen and deputy sheriffs left Williamson in trucks before daylight. It is understood McDowell county is sending 300 deputy sheriffs to Logan by automobile.

PITTSBURGH HEARS REPORT

An appeal was also made for immediate assistance to the sheriff of McDowell county.

LOGAN ADMITS REPORT

LOGAN, W. Va., Aug. 27.—The sheriff's office reported everything quiet along the Logan-Boone county border at 1 o'clock this morning.

Two special deputies, Randolph Dial and Allan Moontz, are reported to have been killed. This report was also denied by the sheriff's office.

U. S. REJECTS CLAIM OF STEEL MEN TO WAR OVERTIME

Employes of Bethlehem Steel Works Are Refused Pay for War Effort

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Claims of former employes of the Bethlehem Steel Company for more than one and one-half millions of dollars in back pay are rejected under a decision just reached by Acting Secretary of War Wainwright, it was learned today.

The case, which has been pending for nearly three years, involves some 38,000 men, many of whom are said now to be destitute as a result of slackness in the steel industry and consequent unemployment.

The Bethlehem Steel Compnay employes' claim grew out of a decision of the War Labor Board awarding wage increases to machinists and electricians, when such increases appeared to be necessary to keep shops working at capacity on important war orders.

An appeal to Secretary of War Weeks from the decision of the acting secretary of war is being made by the workingmen's representatives, and it is understood that the matter will be called to the White House if necessary.

A letter written by former Secretary of War Benedict Crowell in September, 1918, to President Grace of the Bethlehem company, played an important part in the decision of Secretary Wainwright. This letter stated in effect that if the Bethlehem company would pay the increases ordered by the War Labor Board and thus keep the plants functioning on important big gun orders demanded by General Pershing, the War Department would see that the company was compensated.

Under the opinion rendered by Secretary Wainwright, this letter does not constitute just grounds for a claim against the War Department, inasmuch as the Bethlehem company never complied with the terms of the award of the labor board. Regardless of whatever moral obligations may have been incurred by the War Department, the opinion holds, there is no legal obligation, and the War Department, therefore, has no right to pay the claims.

AUTO MEN URGED TO CO-OPERATE

President of Trades Association Tells San Gabriel Valley Organization They Must Stand Closer Together for the Interest of the Public as Well as Themselves.

George Haberfielde, president of the Auto Trades Association of California, was one of the principal speakers at the regular meeting and banquet of the San Gabriel Valley Auto Trades Association at the White Inn, corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway, last night. About 70 members of the organization were present and the meeting proved to be the most stimulating thus far held by this association in Glendale.

President Haberfielde, in his address, congratulated the auto men of Glendale on the wonderful growth this city is making and especially with regard to the progress that the auto dealers of this locality are making. He gave a brief review of the convention of the State Auto Trades Association, which was held at Lake Tahoe about a week ago. He said that at that session business conditions of the automobile industry were discussed and that they were very satisfactory.

He asked the auto dealers of this section to cooperate more fully in the future than they have ever done.

"I know that cooperation is the greatest means of growth in any industry," said Mr. Haberfielde, "and I would suggest that your organization should practice it even more in the future than you have in the past. Notwithstanding the fact that there are various auto branches here, it is by cooperation that the sales as a whole are increased."

Joseph A. Moore Speaks

Joseph A. Moore, of San Gabriel, vice-president of the State Auto Trades Association and President of the San Gabriel Valley Auto Trades Association, was present, and in his address thanked President Haberfielde for his presence and for his words of wisdom and encouragement.

Wright Discusses Conditions

Hon. Henry W. Wright, chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County and speaker for the Assembly at the State Legislature, addressed the automobile men. He stated that he would have charge of the redistricting of the state in the fall.

Mr. Wright talked at considerable length and to the enlightenment of those present on automobile legislation, road construction and taxation on autos. It is the opinion of Mr. Wright that those who wear out the road most should pay the largest percentage in the upkeep of the highways. The heavily loaded auto trucks are the ones which do the greatest damage to the highways of the state, and it should be the owners of these who should pay the largest tax. The only bill passed at the last legislature with regard to automobiles and the use of motor-driven vehicles on the highways was that permitting the various counties to reduce the maximum load which can be carried on moto trucks. The state laws permit a load of 14 tons, while the legislature in some of the counties have cut this down considerably.

JOSEPH A. MOORE

Max Green Elected

At this session Max Green, agent for the Oakland car in Glendale, was elected vice-president to represent the Glendale auto dealers in all meetings of the San Gabriel Auto Trades Association. The auto men of the State of California are organized into one large association, this being known as the California State Auto Trades Association. In connection with this state organization are the associations which represent the various districts in the state. In this section this organization is known as the San Gabriel Valley Auto Trades Association. In addition to this there is a minor organization in each city, consisting of all of the automobile men in that respective city. The state organization has its regular corps of officers consisting of president, etc. Each district has its president, while each city within the district has a representative which is known as vice-president. So that each district has one president and as many vice-presidents as there are cities in the district organization. It as to the office of vice-president of this district organization that Mr. Green was elected last night.

Mr. Lvell Puckett, an Alhambra auto dealer, gave a short address in which he enlightened the local dealers on the unfair propaganda which is being circulated at this time by the hay and grain men against the tractor.

Jesse Smith Talks

Jesse Smith, agent for the Ford in Glendale, gave a short talk in which he told of the business conditions along the automobile line in Glendale.

"I am sorry that there are not more night to hear these very enlightening Glendale automobile men present to-addresses. Quite a few of them are working feverishly over at the big tent in order that their exhibits at the exposition may be complete by the time the big affair opens."

State President Haberfielde during the evening gave a short discription of his wonderful service station in Bakersfield. This is acknowledged to be the finest and most complete oil and gas service stations in California. It is considered a model in the way of a service depot.

It was announced that the next meeting of the State Auto Trades Association will be held at Bakersfield, and a cordial invitation was extended to every member of the organization to be present. It will be something different.

Previous to the addresses and business session one of those ideal White Inn dinners was served.

MOTOR CAR BEST TONIC

First of all, the motor car conserves the energy of its owner. The man who uses his automobile in his business knows he can cover more ground with it and with greater physical comfort to himself and a greater efficiency to his business.

Then, among professional people, physicians know how easy it is with his motor car to cover the ground necessary to their practice. The widening of the sphere of activity of the physician has resulted in a better bill of health to the whole country.

Motor cars have proved a great benefit to the farmer in the development of the shorter hours idea and linking him up with the pleasures of the city. Many of the details of the business of the farm are now taken care of by his motorized policy, and consequently he's getting a great deal more out of life in general.

But it is in the field of recreation that the motor car has especially proved beneficial to the health of the community. It restores its users to the full vigor of health after a day in the office or after period of exhausting work. The motor camping outfits are becoming more and more common. It is a kind of camping de luxe that the whole family can enjoy and the weekend trips are putting a vim into business which is felt all along the line.

The motor car is the best tonic in the world.

England has about 5000 fur workers, the majority of whom are employed in London.

Castaic Route Is Now Open Via Los Angeles

An announcement of particular importance to eastern visitors as well as to local automobile owners, who have occasion to travel between the northern and southern parts of the state, is made by the Automobile Club of Southern California to the effect that the Castaic route between Los Angeles and Ventura is now open and ready for travel.

This route has been closed for some time on account of paving operations. Now all paving is complete with the exception of one-half mile at Castaic itself.

This route is of particular importance because of its scenic beauty, points out the automobile club touring bureau, and because of the rich agricultural land it taps.

A round trip of much peauty is provided visitors by way of Santa Paula, Fillmore and San Fernando, using the state highway through Calabasas as an alternative route.

The distance between Ventura and Los Angeles over this route is 81 miles.

Coal mine operators in New South Wales intimate that they must close down at the expiration of government control, claiming that to continue under present conditions would mean bankruptcy.

Three Things to Remember:

First
Quality Gasoline

CHOOSE your brand of gasoline and stand by it.

Choose the grade of oil you like best and stick to it.

These are two good rules for any motorist to follow. It is not always convenient or possible to live up to them unless you choose your filling station and make it a rule to go there always.

To Buy Here Is a Good Habit

By being forehanded — by anticipating your gasoline needs—you can make provision for filling your tank here. Then you will be sure of a gasoline uniform in quality, high in power, moderate in price.

Second
Service

UNIFORM air pressure in your tires means uniform wear from them. Keep your tires well filled. Make it a practice to stop here at frequent intervals Test the air pressure in your tires and use the conveniences we have provided for pumping air into them.
This service is free.

Our Policy of Service

The same good will to you and desire for good will from you as prompts us in this service also inspires us in every service we render.
We want you to feel free to use every service, knowing that where it is necessary to place a charge upon a particular service it will be fair to both of us. Come to us knowing also that any service will be rendered with the utmost of efficiency and courtesy.

Third
Best Motor Oils

CORRECT lubricants are the most economical—sometimes in the beginning—always in the end. The engine of your car is the propelling power. It is the most important single part. And it is highly probable that the oils you use exert a larger influence on your engine than any other feature.

Protection for Your Engine

Keep your car out of the repair shop by keeping the right oil in your engine.
The right oil need not be the most expensive. But it is oil that has been tested. It has been proved by its action on many cars in many kinds of service. That is the kind of oil we sell. You can make no mistake in filling up here always.

ANOTHER AUTO ACCIDENT

W. C. Kerr, giving his address as Bible Institute, Los Angeles, filed a curiously worded complaint at police headquarters this forenoon, to the effect that in driving over from Hollywood he was run into on Los Feliz road by an auto traveling southerly on the wrong side of San Fernando road, which auto struck "half of his car." He averred further that the offending machine bore New York license 709,103 but had no name and no permit to traverse the roads of California.

Mrs. H. Lee Clotworthy and sister who are spending the summer in Wyoming, write that they are having a delightful time as guests of a sister in Laramie and doing a great deal of sight-seeing. They do not expect to return to Glendale before the first of October.

W. W. Worley of North Jackson street, is confined to his bed by illness, but is said to be better this morning. Mrs. Worley says she guesses it is the effect of too much vacation.

PRICE STAGE GONE SAYS NASH MAN

That the automotive sales market has passed from a price stage to a value stage is the assertion of E. B. Sutton, general manager of the Nash Motor Sales company, distributors for the Nash in Glendale and vicinity.

According to Sutton the new prices which went into effect recently on all Nash cars, have resulted in greatly stimulated business. In commenting on the situation, Sutton said:

"The fact that the public realizes that the prices of standard lines of cars are becoming stabilized is proven in the increased volume of business this company has done since the reductions went into effect.

"For a number of months the public has been basing its judgement in car purchasing on price. Now, however, the true standard, that of quality, is again being used, as the majority of cars are now being sold at figures closely approximating those of prewar times. The present Nash reductions represent lowered production costs in the two Nash plants, one at Kenosha, and the other at Milwaukee. These savings, attainable only because of the efficient and economical methods of Charles W. Nash, one of the country's highest authorities on production methods, are now being passed on to Nash buyers.

It has long been the establisheu Nash policy, which has been carried on to the Nash distributor and dealer organizations, to always deal fairly and squarely with the public. It is our belief that the policy has been as highly important in our success as has been the quality of the Nash product.

"The Nash Motors company has publicly committed itself to continuously pursue the policy of steadily building a better value and holding to existing prices until new economies in production are effected. This is the explanation why with the announcement of these reduced prices, this company has been able to advertise that with these prices goes an even better car than was produced before'."

Mr. and Mrs. George Helford and Mr. and Mrs. George Hollister of Hollywood were dinner guests one evening this week of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Horne at their home, 1445 Valley View road.

MUCH TIRE TROUBLE IS DUE TO ABUSE BY DRIVER

One of the foremost automobile tire experts in the country is authority for the statement that more than half the tires returned for adjustment are nothing less than the victims of abuse, and are not defective, as claimed by the purchaser, says Jellison, of the J. & K. Service, local Savage tire distributors.

One of the most common causes of tire trouble is the blowout. These are usually caused by stone bruises, which may break the fabric on the inside while the tread appears nearly perfect. But it is only a short time before the tire blows out. Chuckholes, curbs, car tracks, etc., some times have exactly the same results.

Stone bruise is greatly reduced by keeping the pressure up. Keep a gauge on hand at all times and continually test your tires. They very often are much softer than you think, and kicking them or pinching them will not tell you the pressure. Be sure to maintain pressure even in hot weather, as the rise in pressure due to heat is practically neglible.

Misalignment is usually caused by the front wheel striking the curb when parking and may never be noticed until the damage is done and the tread of the tire worn off. When the wheel is only one degree out of alignment it amounts to dragging the 92 feet on every mile.

Few owners, however, realize that rims which are loose, if not mounted evenly, will have the effect of causing excessive wear. A loose rim generally makes its presence known by a squeaking sound, but the most damage is caused by the rim being applied crooked, which causes the tire to wear in spots.

One-sixteenth inch misalignment slides the tire 13 feet; one eighth-inch 29 feet per mile; one-quarter inch, 37 feet per mile and one-half inch, 115 feet per mile.

Serious cuts often occur when driven over switches with sharp-pointed frogs. Rails on hills are to be shunned, for as a rule they have sharp, thin splinters on the edge which cut or puncture tires.

And especially dangerous are wet rails. A quick twist of the front wheels may result in accident from the rear of the car skidding when leaving the slippery steel rails.

Crusade Against Wild Driving Is Spreading

From the northern part of the state comes an announcement that autists who exceed the speed limit in and about Sacramento are going to get theirs!

Motorcycle officers throughout the northern counties are reported by the Automobile Club of Southern California to be exceedingly active at this time of the year, probably being thawed out by the warm weather.

Many arrests of Southern California auto owners who are visiting in the north this summer have been reported to the automobile club, says its legal department, but in the majority of cases these arrests have been caused by the recklessness of the motorists themselves.

In the southern part of the state increased activity on the part of county road officers is also reported by the club's legal department. For the first time in its history a "cop" has been stationed on the famous Conejo grade between Los Angeles and Santa Barbara.

All counties from San Diego and Imperial on the south to San Luis Obispo on the north state that they will not tolerate excessive speed by any "vacation speeders."

Speed traps are not being used so much now by county officers as formerly, says the club, but greater activity on the open road is being shown by motorcycle officers in a fair and above-board manner.

Pottery manufacturers may pay sick benefits to their workers instead of the Potter's Union. The manufacturers now have the plan under advisement and will make a decision in the matter at an early date.

BARACCA CLASS ENTERTAIN

Members of the Baracca Class of the First Methodist church entertained members of the Philathea Class at the home of G. Edwin Murphy, 421 North Brand boulevard, last evening.

It was a lawn party and a gay scene, with Japanese lanterns hung in festoons and shedding a soft glow over the grass and shrubbery. Games were played indoors as well as out, and the jolly evening closed with the auctioning off of the lunch boxes brought by the Philatheans, who thus secured their partners for supper.

G. Edwin Murphy, Ellis Thomas and Elwood Ingledue constituted the committee of arrangements.

The Satisfied Customer
By far the most valuable advertising is the word-of-mouth advertising of the SATISFIED CUSTOMER. The local Westinghouse station has been designed and equipped with this idea as a basis—easy entrance, easy exit, speed and cleanliness.
This idea is uppermost in the minds of every employe, and he is specifically instructed to extend every courtesy and attention, to do everything possible to lengthen the life of every battery, NO MATTER WHAT MAKE, and to never advise the purchase of a new oversize Westinghouse unless an economical repair cannot be made. The Three Great VESTA Triumphs
VESTA STORAGE BATTERY "Costs Less per Month of Service"
Among the various makes of storage batteries there is only one radically different and superior to the rest. This one exceptional battery is the VESTA.
Three great battery improvements make the VESTA different. These triumphs give double life:
1—VESTA INDESTRUCTIBLE ISOLATOR—An ingenious device; locks the plates apart and prevents short circuits.
2—VESTA IMPREGNATED WOODEN MATS—Prevent "treeing" and its disastrous consequences.
3—TITANIUM—a rare mineral—enters into the lead plates, hardening them and giving them longer life. It precipitates minerals and impurities in solution, thus increasing the efficiency of the battery.
These remarkable features are covered by U. S. Basic Patents belonging to VESTA. They cannot be used in any other battery.
VESTA costs no more than ordinary batteries.
Ask any VESTA service station man to explain VESTA superiority.

Advertising Rates Made Known On Application

SATURDAY, AUGUST 27, 1921

THE PRESS GROWS

The Glendale Press this week has passed from a good country daily newspaper to a lively all-around recorder of up-to-the- minute news of the world.

It has grown, with the city, from six to eight pages. This may not impress the average big-town reader as extraordinary, for it is true that The Press has not as large an advertising patronage as it should have to make up the bulk of a large paper.

Yet, for an infant, in the throes of growing pains—which we intend to keep entirely local—The Press records with joy that it was first on the streets of Glendale or even Los Angeles with pictures of the blimp destroyed by explosion at Hull, England Not until the sporting extras hit the street in Los Angeles did any paper in Los Angeles, not to refer to Glendale, go to press with the pictures, which showed the enormous size of the wrecked craft.

On the heels of this, The Press yesterday contained all the news, brief in some instances, extensive in others, of all the world happenings up to going to press. This means it carried a complete report of the tragedy across the sea, the revolt in India, the miners' rebellion in West Virginia, the anti-beer fight, the signing of the peace pact with Germany.

All of this and much else without restricting the amount of local news, which was up to the minute and a little in the future.

The Press today is a fair indication of its progress in the future.

During the week The Press passed from six to eight pages of world news and local matter. What it will be next week, if its efforts to grow meet with the continued appreciation of the citizens of the city and of the merchants, because of the increase in circulation, is a matter of conjecture. But it will grow as Glendale grows.

Buy your growing newspaper. It is made for you, and its receipts remain in Glendale.

Read the advertisements in it. They are inserted for the purpose of drawing attention to the goods displayed here.

Glendale has not yet acquired the habit of buying its home-town newspaper on the street. It is inexpensive, but it is a valuable habit for the community, for it means the local merchant is getting your attention, and he has been trying to find a channel of communication with you ever since you followed him to the city.

The Glendale Press will be on the street for sale every day early. Two editions will be issued hereafter—the first about noon and the second, with the latest news, shortly afterward. The last will give the complete news of the city. The first will be up to date and a little ahead of the Los Angles evening papers.

TRAFFIC CONGESTION

The average citizen, if asked what he considered to be the busiest street intersection in Glendale, would unhesitatingly respond, "Brand and Broadway," but he might be wrong. True, it is for a few hours of the day, but taking the whole 24 hours into account, the intersection of San Fernando and Los Feliz roads far exceeds in heaviness of traffic. More accidents occur at the latter than at any other in Glendale, too.

But, even in the very busiest hours, the Brand and Broadway crossing is almost entirely free from accidents, owing mainly to the fact that less speed is indulged in there and drivers are more wide awake in the center of the city.

Colorado and Brand might be called the third busiest crossing, and here some quite serious accidents have occurred, due entirely to excessive speed.

ACTIVE MARKET ISSUES REVIEWED FOR INVESTORS

(Sugarman's Indicator Service)

COLORADO FUEL—The only steel company to report for quarter of 1920 larger earnings than in corresponding period of 1920. Common stock earned equivalent to $1.59 a share in first three months of 1921, which compares with $1.11 in first three months of 1920 and $3.29 a share in entire year of 1920. What is the reason? Merely a matter of the famous and often referred to "decentralization of industry" due to the high freight rates. Situated in Colorado company is naturally able to take business away from more Easternly located competitors. Colorado Fuel & Iron has been overlooked in the downward course of steel quotations. It is certainly cheap around prevailing levels.

OWENS BOTTLE—Company and subsidiary report for six months ended June 30, 1921, net profits after charges and federal taxes of $1,147,568, which is equivalent after charging off preferred dividends to $1.17 a share (par $25), earned on $17,371,900 common stock. This showing compares with the $2,505,117 or $4.96 a share on $10,932,626 outstanding common stock in corresponding period of 1920.

SLOSS SHEFFIELD—Company's balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1920, displays a $7,933,047 profit and loss durplus account, an increase of $844,799 over the same date a year previous. Working capital as of Dec. 31, last, was placed at $2,785,475. This estimate of working capital does not include Federal income and profit taxes. Total reserves included Federal tax reserves, workmen's compensation, furnace repairs, etc., and at the close of 1920 were placed at $974,573. One of the most unfavorable features of balance sheet is the fact that cash and marketable securities showed a big decline, and amounted at the end of 1920 to only $100,487 as compared with $2,863,875 on Dec. 31, 1919. Inventory account showed an increase of $3,916,854 compared with $2,085,058 at the end of 1919. On this item, however, the company was fortunate in selling its inventory at prices consireably in excess of current market quotations. We feel that Sloss Sheffield has discounted any unfavorable situation, and is an excellent speculative investment at prevailing levels.

BETHLEHEM STEEL—Company earned common dividend in first three months of 1920. Every prospect of company earning its dividend in the second quarter. This is contrasted with other independents who did not earn their dividends in the March period. Company has gradually increased its property account through new construction. As it is company is benefiting from the lower operating cost due to up-to-date machinery. It is said that the Bethlehem Stell Shipyards at Fore River, Mass., and Sparrow's Point, Md., and also at San Francisco, now have unfinished orders on hand for balance of the year at capacity operations. Among other jobs is contract with the Standard Oil Co. for three 15,000 ton tankers and four 20,000 ton combination oil and ore-carrying ships to cost $5,000,000 each. On December 31, 1921, net assets applicable to both classes of common stock amounted to $130,688,786, equivalent to $218 a share. During past six-year period earnings over and above charges to preferred dividends have averaged approximately $33.51 a share on 598,620 shares of A and B common stock now outstanding.

TOBACCO—According to Government Crop Report issued as of July 1, tobacco yield will be 932,000,000 pounds compared with 1,508,064,000 pounds in 1920. In 1919 the country produced 1,463,325,000 pounds of tobacco and 1918 average production was 1,187,408,000 pounds. Low prices of tobacco has resulted in a decrease in acreage. In 1919 the country planted 1,920,800 acres to tobacco and in 1920 planted 1,894,400 acres, but this year the acreage has shrunk to 1,337,000 acres. Here we see the readjustment of tobacco industry. Tobacco industry is now on "rock bottom," and tobacco crops should soon be in a position to show profits. We are recommending for purchase the common stock of AMERICAN TOBACCO, AMERICAN SUMATRA and GENERAL CIGARS, believing that those who buy now to hold for a year should see good profits on investment.

PIERCE ARROW—For the quarter ended June 30th last, company reports deficit after charges and taxes of $1,400,550. This compares with loss of $489,502 in preceding quarter and surplus of $715,779 or $2.02 a share on common stock after preferred dividends in corresponding quarter of 1920. PIERCE ARROW slumped in recent markets, and it is our belief that setback has gone far enough for time hebing, and that rally of about five points would seem to be in order.

COCA COLA—Net income for three months ended June 30, 1921, is placed after expenses and interest at $1,170,315. For six months ended June net income is placed at $1,804,263. COCA COLA has been acting well in the recent market. While present market may be largely technical, yet we expect the stock to go considerably further.

COLUMBIA GAS & ELEC.—During 12 months ended June 30, gross earnings totalled $14,832,179, which increase of $1,317,409 over previous 12 months. Net earnings after taxes amounted to $9,919,017, an increase of $767,862. Surplus available for dividends increased $591,132 and amounted to $4,758,575. Paying $6 per share per annum COLUMBIA GAS seems cheap at prevailing prices.

MEXICAN PETROLEUM—Recent gyrations of stock only fools the foolish. Statistics on oil production of Mexico, which pessimists have told us so often is about to give out, show no such thing.

From 1901 to 1920 Mexico produced 563,523,752 barrels of 42 gallons each. Back in 1901 the yearly production was only 19,345,000 barrels which grew to 163,540,000 barrels in 1920. Present rate of production about 180,000,000 barrels yearly. While old wells are giving out yet new fields more than fill up the gap. On the first of January, 1921, there have been 42 new wells come in with a daily estimae of 128,000,728 barrels. In January this year Mexico produced 16,240,623 barrels of petroleum; in February 15,063,864 barrels; in March 17,841,887 barrels; in April 18,614,790 barrels and in May 19,000,000 barrels. These statistics refute the statements that Mexican production of crude oil is dwindling. It would seem to us that Mexican Petroleum is much too low. The stock could easily advance 20 points or more within a few days' time.

CRUDE OIL—Production of petroleum in United States during May amounted to 41,920,000 barrels, greatest ever recorded in any one month. Average production of crude petroleum during month of May is placed at 1,352,258 barrels, an increase of 16,891 barrels over average for month of April. It is said that value of wells of oil produced during the month of May was approximately $66,000,000, a considerable decrease over well value during May, 1920, which was placed at $113,000,000 as payment for 36,503,000 barrels of oil. Hence we see that although in May, 1921, the production increased something like 5,400,000 barrels, nevertheless the producers received approximately $47,000,000 for their output. Daily average consumption of both domestic and imported crude oil during May last is said to have increosed about 77,414 barrels, and a total daily average consumption of 1,354,419 barrels shows but small margin over domestic production of 2,161 barrels. This means if tariff is placed on oil that prices ought to rise in this country as it wil ltend to decrease imports of foreign oil. Inasmuch as domestic consumption will exceed by some 2,000 barrels a day the imported production, we can naturally expect substantial rise in price of crude oil at the well in this country. Imports for May decreased slightly per daily average of 295,078 barrels, but this left an increase in stocks of imported oil during that month of more than 8,000 barrels. Pipe-line and tank-farm tocks of domestic petroleum and stocks of Mexican petroleum now in the United States as of June 1, last, estimated at approximately 155,341,000 barrels.

"THE HAIRPIN"

(On seeing one lying on the ground).

By EDWIN J. PERRIN, Glendale, Calif.

Oh! Hairpin, I ask how you got there—
From whose hair to the earth did'st thou fall;
Was it brown, or yellow, or golden,
Was she short, was she slim, was she tall?

Do tell me! How old was the maiden?,
If a maiden it was you adorned?
Was she twenty, thirty, or forty?
(I wonder if you are now mourned?)

You can't speak! Indeed' tis a pity.
Still your answer I read all the same.
You are light, so small and so fragile;
She was youthful and pretty, (no dame.)

CITIZENS OF GRAND VIEW ARE LOYAL GLENDALIANS

The people of the Grand View district, which was annexed to Glendale a short time ago, are a bunch of boosters. If you don't believe this ask Assistant Secretary E. F. Sanders of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. He is not backward about giving his opinion concerning the folks over in the western section.

Recently Become Citizens

"Although these people in the Grand View district have just recently become citizens of Glendale, I want to tell you that they are just as loyal to Glendale and just as enthusiastic over the prospects of the city along every line of advancement as are any of the folks who have lived here for twenty years. It is nothing short of astonishing the way these fellows are coming right to the front. They are boosters of the highest order. No undertaking seems to be too great for them. From the spirit they are exhibiting it is very evident that they did not come into Glendale with the idea of acting as drones. They did not come in with the intention of sitting back and sarcastically demanding: "Now that we have joined your city, come through with your improvements. You have promised us city advantages, so come through with them—right now."

"I tell you there is nothing of that kind except from a very few mistaken citizens, and these fellows will be won over to our side by our fair treatment of them before they are many weeks older. The city of Glendale is doing everything it can to give these people all of the advantages and privileges that are being enjoyed in the older part of Glendale, but the extension of these different features cannot be secured in a day.

Back Chamber of Commerce

"We have been encouraged in the extreme by the way the Grand View people have reecived us as representatives of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. In no section of the city have we received a warmer welcome. This is shown by the fact that in two days we received 15 applications for membership to the chamber. Eight applications were received day before yesterday and seven were received yesterday. Can you beat it? This is better than we have done in any two days, thus far, even among the business men of Glendale. And remember, all of those fifteen were simply private citizens. They feel it is their duty to become members of the livest organization in this city, and that they are intent on doing their duty as they see it is very evident.

"It is true that there are some injustices and dificulties that are being suffered by the residents of the Grand View district at this time, as has been the case in the past, but we want to assure these new-comers to Glendale that the Chamber of Commerce is in entire sympathy with them. It realizes what should be done for their betterment and for the betterment of their section as a whole, and it wants to assure these folks that the chamber is right now doing everything it can to have these injustices removed. It takes time to operate official machinery and to bring about such changes as are desired, but these changes will surely come—they will surely be made, and let me say that they will be made just as soon as it is possible to make them. They are entitled to the same privileges as any of the residents of Glendale, for that section is just as much a part of Glendale now as is the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway. All we ask is that the folks over there will be patient. The city of Glendale has played fair with every section that has thus far annexed itself to her, and it is too late for her to change her policy along this line."

MISS CHURCH GIVES PRETTY LUNCHEON

Miss Church entertained with a prettily appointed luncheon this noon at her home, 225 North Orange avenue. The guests were all old school friends and covers were laid for Mrs. Francis Pease, of Alhambra, Mrs. Robert Philp, of Chicago, Miss Anne Wood, of San Pedro, Miss Francis Payne and Miss Alice McCoy, of Glendale. Twice it has been stolen, and he went all by himself to police headquarters and laid his case before the sympathetic desk sergeant. The last time he found it by a little detective work on his own hook. This morning he again sought his friends, the big policemen, and told them a big Mexican boy attacked him in front of the Burd cookie factory, stripped the tires from his tricycle and made off with them. He didn't know the boy's name nor where he lived, but he was mighty sure the nice policemen who listened so sympathizingly to his manly pleas before would help him this time.

"Editor Glendale Daily Press,

"Glendale, Calif.

"Dear Sir:—Dr. F. L. Riley, lecturer for New Thought center of Glendale, hands me the following, over his signature as a reply to an article appearing in your issue of August 23, over the signature of Rev. W. E. Edmonds. We will very much appreciate space for the same.

"'The article written by Rev. W. E. Edmonds and appearing in your paper, is most interesting, since it reveals the attitude of certain ministers in the Christian Church toward honest investigators, who are endeavoring to understand the Bible through supplying the key to the mysteries contained therein.

"'A student is not an "unbeliever"; neither is he a "poor, sinful," or "puffer up" when he supplies a new interpretation to a passage of Scripture.

"'In spite of the fact that a huge fish has been discovered off the coast of Florida with a mouth and throat large enough to swallow two men, the writer contends that the story of Jonah and the great fish is an allegory. The fish is a very ancient symbol and is found in a number of the sacred books of the East. St. Augustine speaks of Jesus as a "fish that lives in the midst of waters." Tertullian speaks of "so many fishes bred in the water, and saved by one great fish." He refers to Christians, to Christ and the Church. Such statements are, of course, allegorical.

"'While traveling in Monmouthshire, England, I discovered within the ruined walls of Tinturn Abbey a large slab of stone upon which was carved a cross; on one side of the cross was a large fish, and on the other side three small fishes; there were no words on the stone. This stone proves that the early English Christians understood the fish symbol.

"'The ancient Church fathers thoroughly understood that the Bible, in many parts, is not to be taken literally.

"'St. Gregory refers to the "letter" of Scripture as "not only dead, but deadly."

"'Origen states that "while every passage of Scripture has a spiritual meaning, but there is often a spiritual meaning under a literal fiction."

"'Philo, the great Alexandrian philosopher, is of the same opinion.

"'We are living in a new age; and the time has arrived when people must do their own thinking. The Bible is the most wonderful book in all the world, when we use the proper "key" to interpret the mysteries.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CHANGES ROUTE DESIGNATIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—In order to avoid confusion in referring to the Southern Pacific lines' 100 per cent route between Pacific Coast points and New York via New Orleans and Galveston, the Southern Pacific Company has adopted uniform terms for both the east and westbound business by this route and G. W. Luce, freight traffic manager for the company is advising shippers to that effect.

In the past this route, which is Southern Pacific all the way, has been designated as Sunset Gulf Route, Southern Pacific-Morgan Lines, Sunset Gulf-Atlantic Steamship Lines and with other terms. In the future "Sunset Route" will be the designation for all through eastbound business and "Morgan Line-Sunset Route" for all through westbound business.

NEWSBOYS ABSENT ON BASEBALL DATE

The Daily Press carrier boys are a chesty lot these days, first because they are selling lots of papers and second because recently their ball team defeated a picked nine from the rival bunch of kids by a top-heavy score.

When a challenge came to them this week from their opponents for a return game, they went forth to the fray determined to annex another victory. But on arriving at the grounds, no enemy appeared, and, after waiting for some time, they sorrowfully dispersed, convinced that their rivals feared to meet them again scenting another and worse defeat.

Daily Press Classified Ads have great selling power. Try them out and be convinced.

W. C. T. U. INSTITUTE MEETS ON MONDAY

An all-day institute under the auspices of the Glendale Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held Monday, August 29, in the Baptist church, beginning at 10 a. m.

There will be a fine program of music and speeches and Mrs. Maude Perkins, one of the national directors of the organization, who is en route to the east from the San Francisco convention, will be present and give the principal address. All members of the union are urged to attend and bring lunch.

Monday evening a reception will be tendered Mrs. Perkins at the home of Mrs. Samuel Dick, 309 North Louise street. A jolly time is expected and young people are especially invited.

Quite a delegation from Glendale is attending the picnic and reception to national officers and delegates, which is being given today in Lincoln Park, Los Angeles, the group including Mrs. C. W. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Yeoman, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown, Mrs. R. W. Mottern, Mrs. O. S. Palmer, Mrs. Inez Glassey and daughter, Dora, and Mrs. A. B. Smart.

ELLIOT PLACE SOLD

Ernest Elliot and wife have sold their place at 1331 East Colorado street and moved to Newport Beach. The frontage is 100 feet and the depth 265. There is quite a large fruit stand on the front which has been doing an extensive business and there are 19 walnut trees on the place. The purchaser is M. H. Breen of Los Angeles, who has placed his nehepw, B. A. King, in charge. Mr. King, wife and little daughter, came to Glendale recently from Iowa and bought the Windsor place at 307 East Garfield avenue. They have moved to their new place of business and their home on Garfield will be occupied by Mrs. King's parents, who will arrive from Iowa in a short time.

Rev. A. B. Smart, who is recuperating from a serious illness, is said to be making slow but sure progress. He is now able to be up and around the house and yard a part of the time.

MRS. ELLA RICHARDSON ATTENDS FAIR CONFERENCE

Mrs. Ella Richardson, general chairman for Glendale of the Women's Department of the San Fernando Valley Fair, attended the conference held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harry Huston in San Fernando.

At that meeting methods of displaying exhibits to the best advantage were discussed but no uniform plan was adopted.

Concessions to Clubs

Announcement was made of provisions for free concessions for sales of cooked food to be made by women's clubs and other women's organizations and this was of special interest to Mrs. Richardson, because a proposition had been made by Mrs. A. H. Montgomery for such a concession for the Tuesday Afternoon Club of this city to raise money for its club house fund. The announcement stated that a space of 20x20 feet for such use by women's clubs where home-made cake, pie, French pastry, cold sandwiches, tea and coffee could be sold with the understanding that the proceeds shall be used for building, improving or other public benefits and be so divided that all clubs desiring to do so may participate.

No Judging Monday

Because of the change in the date of the fair to September 19-24, the opening day will fall on Monday and there will be no judging that day. Entries of fruit, flowers, cooked food, art work, etc., will therefore be received on Monday, the 19th, up to 6 o'clock.

Baby Day Portrait Gallery

Mrs. Richardson was also interested in the announcement that there will be a special paper issued for Baby Day in which the pictures of baby entrants will be published, provided their parents will send the photographs without delay. The pictures of Glendale babies should be sent to the local chairman of Child Welfare, Dr. Caroline Payne Jackman, 515 North Kenwood street.

General Meeting Wednesday

A general meeting of all members of committees in all the eleven cities that are participating in this fair has been called for next Wednesday, August 31, at Van Nuys at 2:30. All members of committees in the Culinary Department, and the departments of Plants and Flowers, Art, Needlework and Child Welfare, are urged to attend and to take with them any ladies who are assisting with their work.

New Quarters for Art

It will be joy to the Glendale committee on art, to learn that Mrs. Richardson has been promised the use of the San Fernando grammar school for art exhibits instead of a tent. This will mean a much larger and better exhibit display under more favorable conditions. Besides pictures it will include hand painted china, arts and crafts work, and many objects of beauty specially classified which will be placed in cabinets and showcases.

Following the session the hostess served delicious refreshments to the large group of ladies who had gathered for the conference.

MAYOR JAMES ROLPH TO VISIT IN LOS ANGELES

Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco, the "Father of the Regiment," is coming to Los Angeles with veterans of the 363d infantry, "San Francisco's Own" to attend the reunion of the Ninety-first Division, September 24th and 25th. Definite word of his acceptance of an invitation to attend was received by Gurnsey Frazier, in charge of arrangements for the entertainment of the Bay City veteran at the reunion, today, and will be announced at a meeting of 363d men to be held Tuesday night at 522 Wilcox Bldg., Second and Spring streets, Los Angeles.

The San Francisco contingent, which will include men from all units of the division who are now living in territory tributary to the post, has chartered the S. S. Yale for the trip and expects to bring still another boatload. In tin hats and overseas uniform it is to land at San Pedro the morning of Saturday, September 24th, ride on cushions (no "40 hommes et 8 chaveaux") to Los Angeles and march to reunion headquarters in the club rooms of Los Angeles Post No. 8, American Legion.

There are nearly a hundred veterans of the 363d living in Los Angeles, and with the aid of those in surrounding towns, they plan to show their comrades from the north that even Paris can't put on livlier entertainment than Los Angeles. There are about sixty men on the committee which is to meet Tuesday night to discuss plans for the get-together and additions are bing made as the addresses of former 363d men are discovered.

Mayor Rolph is to be the speaker at a banquet the regiment is to give, probably at the Athletic Club, and will also be asked to talk "for not more than three minutes" at ceremonies to be held at Exposition Park the second day of the reunion.

Within the week Mr. and Mrs. Reuben George were host and hostess at jolly beach party at Anaheim Landing, their guest list including Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fairchild, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Belew, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dosta, Mr. Dosta's mother, and Miss Jess Montjar of Los Angeles.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

COAST PRODUCE TO TRAVEL EAST AT LOWER RATES

In addition to the reductions in westbound transcontinental rates on canned goods, dried fruits and other California products, which took effect August 22, G. W. Luce, freight traffic manager of the Southern Pacific Company, announces that there will be reductions on other products from Pacific coast points to eastern destinations ranging as high as 50 per cent on some articles. The reductions will take effect October 3 and will apply on a wide range of commodities which includes the following:

Cabbage, potash, wild cherry bark, dessicated and frozen shelled eggs with other eggs and dairy products, vegetable tallow, wooden bulkheads returned, malt, oil well supplies, children's toy (less carload lot), fruit paper cut to shape, chloride of sulphur, and storage batteries.

These additional reductions represent the successful efforts of the transcontinental carriers to prevail upon the eastern lines to concur in reductions in through rates from this territory and are expected to stimulate an eastbound movement for the transcontinental carriers.

ENDEAVORERS TO MEET AT TROPICO

The first great get-together meeting of the Glendale Christian Endeavor Union since the convention will take place at the Tropico Presbyterian Church on Central Avenue next Tuesday evening, August 30. It will be in charge of Mrs. A. C. Stoler, special chairman of the district.

Short talks will be made by Howard Brown, who was chairman of the state convention, by Misses Ethel Preston and Nancy St. Clair who have just returned from the World Convention in New York.

There will be games and a general good time with, of course, refreshments. In recognition of their help and participation in the convention, members of the Epworth Leagues of the city and the Baptist Young Peoples' Union are also invited as special guests.

BUSTER KEATON'S WIFE HELPS HIM

Buster Keaton, Joseph M. Schenck's brilliant young comedian who is producing a series of two-reel mirth-quakes for Associated First National, doesn't ever expect to give up his film work, but that isn't preventing him from writing, or beginning to write, a musical comedy. He, in collaboration with Natalie Talmadge, is going to write a musical comedy.

"I've got a good idea for a musical comedy and I've thought up many ideas for a lot of nifty songs," says Buster, "and I've written sort of a synopsis of a plot. Mrs. Keaton has been helping me and soon we intend to take a day off and write the thing so the public won't have to wait months for its appearance as they would if we just worked on it now and and then in the evening. But, all kidding aside, I do believe that I have a nucleus for an entertaining musical comedy."

GLENDALE BOYS WILL ATTEND HI Y CAMP

Glendale Hi Y boys have been invited to attend the Southern California Hi Y training camp to be held September 2-9 at the mountain camp of the Long Beach Hi Y just back of Mount Wilson.

The camp will be made up of representatives from Hi Y clubs of about thirty high schools of Southern California, and the boys who will go from here are Dale Wood, Paul Edmonds and Alton Mattice. They will be accompanied by the Y. M. C. A. secretary, Rex Kelley, and G. Edwin Murphy, who is the leader of one or the Hi Y clubs here.

At the camp the boys will discuss their program of activities for the coming year and will be given a course of training in leadership by Prof. Ewing of Pasadena High, F. M. Duckles of Chico, Ralph G. Cole of San Francisco, state secretary of boys' Y. M. C. A. work, Fighting Bob Shuler of Los Angeles, and others.

The delegates will all assemble at the Pasadena Y. M. C. A. Friday morning at 8:30 and go by trolley to Mount Lowe, and then hike the balance of the way.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby, and Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Lusby of San Fernando, will be dinner guests this evening of Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Lusby of North Louise.

NOT LOST, BUT JUST VISITING GRANDPA

C. W. Whytock, 506 East Maple avenue, sent in a hurried "lost" report to police headquarters yesterday afternoon and every patrolman, as well as Aunt and Uncle, Grandma and Grandpa, were looking earnestly for a "curly-haired" boy of 7 years, stocky in build.

The little fellow with a definite purpose in view, made his way leisurely to 411 North Jackson street, where Grandfather Whytock lives, eluding, albeit unwittingly, all the searchers. Dr. Whytock at once informed police headquarters that his little grandson was found.

EAGLE ROCK CAR AND AUTO COLLIDE

A. O. Whaley, 121 Soutth Jackson street, was crossing Broadway at Jackson in his Chevrolet yesterday afternoon, when his machine was struck by an Eagle Rock car, in charge of motorman-conductor Nagel.

No damage was done to either car or auto, luckily, and Mr. Whaley suffered a slight shake-up only.

WURLITZER ORGAN DEDICATED

A rare treat is in store for all community music lovers Sunday, when the management of the Palace Grand opens its new $42,000 Wurlitzer organ, which has been in the process of installation for the past month.

Henri Monette, an artist of the first rank in musical circles and thoroughly at home at a Wurlitzer, will render a special musical program in conjunction with the regular double feature bill.

For those who enjoy good music, others who cater to rare entertainment and all others who look for the best in amusement, the T. D. & L. management has endeavored to satisfy, and will continue to extend every effort to carry forward this policy.

Your approval or suggestions to the contrary are always appreciated by the house manager, Mr. Fleming, with a view to please and enjoy the goodwill of all patrons. To serve you is the pleasure of the management. To satisfy is its desire.

LIMB FALLS FROM TREE

A monster limb, weighing over a ton, fell from one of the big pepper trees at Thoneycroft, yesterday afternoon, and logded in such a dangerous position that Foreman Westbrook, of the city street department was directed to take care of it.

SOCIAL EVENTS FOR VISITORS FROM COLORADO

Mrs. H. A. Hill and daughter, Miss Yvonne Hill, of Colorado Springs, who have been enjoying a visit of several weeks with Mrs. Jennie L. Darling and Miss Guilla Darling of 108 South Everett tsreet, are being entertained at a number of various social events prior to leaving for their home on Wednesday evening.

During their stay here these visitors have seen most of Southern California by motor, and to say that they are delighted with this sunny section is putting it very mildly. Away down deep in their hearts, they are hoping that some day they will be able to come here to live, and are now planning for a return trip the first of the year.

Thursday night, Mrs. Hill and daughter were guests of honor at a delightful family dinner party, which included Mrs. Hill's mother and sister, Mrs. Darling and Miss Guila, given by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor at their home, 506 North Jackson street. For this occasion, the dining room was prettily decorated with astors and greenery, the color scheme being in purple, gold and green.

Following the repast, the dinner guests were joined by Elmer Morris, of 113 North Everett street. The evening was enjoyably spent in motoring through Eagle Rock and vicinity.

Tonight Mrs. Hill and Miss Yvonne, will be honor guests at a dinner which will be given by Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Havens of Los Angeles. This affair will also be enjoyed by Mrs Jennie Darling.

TOLL FAMILY ENJOYS COLUMBIA RIVER TRIP

A photographic post card from Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Kenneth road indicates that the Toll family auto party is travelling through very lovely scenery. Under date of Aug. 22, under Portland postmark, she writes:

"We have traveled 1750 miles, going as far north as Seattle and east and west on the Columbia Highway. There are many excellent roads and some poor ones enroute. Everyone is boosting for Portland, 1925, for the World's Fair, hereabout. It ought to be a success, if they can control the rains."

The accident rates in the coal mines of England, France, Belgium, Germany, Austria and Japan are much lower than in America because all the miners speak the same language.

JUNIOR CHORAL CLUB ORGANIZES FOR REHEARSALS

The choral club which is being established under the Junior Music Club of which Miss Veda Knapp is president, met Thursday night at her home and effected an organization.

Miss Leonore Rose was appointed accompanist, and club members to assess themselves dues of 25c each the first month and 10c a month thereafter for a music fund.

Mrs. Charles A Parker, who was selected to direct the chorus, was present and explained that she would buy the music at wholesale, and it could be paid for out of the music fund and istributed to the members.

The chorus developed a lot of enthusiasm and rehearsed the "Swing Song" and "Mammy's Lullaby." For voice production some of the folk songs—"Dixie Land" and "My Old Kentucky Home," were sung.

The second rehearsal will take place next week, Wednesday, at the home of Miss Knapp on Chestnut street and Mrs. Parker announced that she would then divide the chorus, rehearsing the boys in songs of adventure and the sea, which they would especially enjoy, and the girls in lyrics of another character, and then put the two section together for a combined rehearsal.

AFFAIRS IN HONOR OF MISS A. OLUND

Miss Adelaide Olund, who is the guest of her brother and sitser-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Olund, at their home at 623 South Glendale avenue, has been the guest of honor at several quiet affairs this week, including a luncheon given for her by Mrs. Olund, who is motoring to Riverside with her today. Mrs. A. S. Chase is entertaining Miss Olund and a few of her friends Saturday at an al fresco luncheon at her home on Riverdale drive.

MRS. GLOVER EXPECTS MOTHER

Mrs. Charles Glover, 414 West Myrtle street, is rejoicing over the near prospect of welcoming her mother, Mrs. Alice Thorwart, and a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Parker, of Chicago, as permanent residents of Glendale. They are now packing their household effects and expect to arrive in October and to buy property here.

Mrs. Thorwart spent six months as the guest of Mrs. Glover two years ago, to see how she would like a residence here. The move that she and her family are now making proves that the decision was favorable.

A general invitation is being extended to young people who enjoy singing to join this organization and get the fine training it will afford and the pleasure it is certain to yield.

About thirty have thus far signified their intention of enrolling and that number may be doubled when the many young people who are away on vacation trips return.

AMONG THE EXHIBITORS

As usual, L. W. Chobe was on hand to give a lift to anyone who was in need of assistance. L. W. has a habit of being right where he is needed at the proper time. It matters not if it is in building a municipal float, arranging a booth or giving advice along electrical lines—Chobe is there.

Ray Galvin of the Tanner & Hall Company was on hand, too. He was actually down on his knees, and the way he was making that tack hammer cut the air was something truly remarkable. This company's booth is surely a beauty. The artistic hand-painted scenic background will be supported by a color scheme of purple and green.

Secretary Rhoades of the Chamber of Commerce was on the job with his words of advice. His suggestions helped many a weary brother over the hard places. He proved himself "some" soda pop distributor at the Chamber of Commerce refreshment booth.

The Nash Motor Sales Company's booth at the rear of the tent will be a beauty. It has a hand-painted background for its display. Two cars of standard model will be shown by this organization, while the feature of the display will be the car, the motor of which has a glass case, which permits the inner operations of the motor to be plainly seen. This motor, of course, is operated by electricity.

Dr. C. S. Steelman, the celebrated eye doctor of Glendale, has a booth along the runway, where he is setting up everything he has on hand in the way of vision-correcting apparatus. He promises that all who visit his booth will be able to see clearly the many other beauties of the exposition.

A little bungalow, modern in all its exterior lines and appointments, is the feature of the H. M. Miller display. This is located on the south side of the tent, about half way down. This little home is a beauty and is illustrative of the many such homes to be found in Glendale.

The Neale & Gregg Hardware Company will have one of the leading exhibits of the show. They are occupying three booths, one 20-foot and two 10-footers, one the south side of the tent. The galvanized iron man will be one of the features of this company's display. They will also demonstrate the unit system of heating. Neale is right on the job in his brown coveralls, and the way he makes his small boys step around is a caution.

A real practical display is that of the Valley Supply Company. There is everything in the way of chicken feed, hay, grain, wood, coal, etc., in this stall.

The Tropico Potteries, Inc., is right there with a fine display of the wares of its manufacture. Its booth is located at the entrance of the tent, where all who enter must see. This display will be an "eye-opener" to many of the people of the valley.

Roy Kent was there, also. This must not be considered as news, however, as Roy is always on hand when there is anything like boosting Glendale going on. He's a glad hand artist of the highest order. The Kent Company's booth is located at the south side of the tent, almost in the center. If the company lives up to its reputation, its display will, in itself, be worth the 11-cent admission.

One of the bright lights of the show is Jacob Fink, the capable landscape artist. All those interested in landscape painting should take a trip over to the big tent and watch Mr. Fink work. He works with brushes, six, eight and even ten inches in width, and the views he "throws" on the canvas are nothing short of wonderful. He painted the background for the Nash Sales display, the Tanner & Hall Company, agents for the Buick, and the Ford Motor Car Company, and a number of others.

The Glendale Electric Company is reproducing a house at its booth on the south side of the tent. This will be electrically lighted in such a way as to bring out the beauties of the electrical appliances.

And there was Jimmy Newton, too. He carried his hammer right along with him, but he wasn't knocking—his neighbors. He promises something nifty in the way of an electrical display, with fixtures, etc.

At least 150 booth builders and beautifiers were on the job this morning. Workmen have almost finished the stage, which is located on the east end of the tent. The electrically-lighted runway is finished and "ready to go."

Everything promises to be in readiness by the time the big things start at 7 o'clock tonight.

The Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers has purchased a three-story building in Pittsburgh which will be used for office purposes. They will also install a printing plant and issue a paper, heralding the doings of the organization.

MOYSES SEND BACK REGARDS TO PRESS

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Moyse are evidently enjoying their auto tour of the north. A card just received from the high school principal, tells of their more recent doings:

"Santa Cruz, Aug. 24, 1921

The "Jewel" Press,
222 South Brand, Glendale—

We have spent several days driving around and in Monterey. The coast south of Point Lobos was our first drive. We came into Santa Cruz last night, and will go on into the Big Basin after we have looked over the city. They have a fine new high school here that I have not seen yet. Everything on the trip is very pleasant.

Yours
George U. Moyse."

SERBS' POSITION IN BALKANS CAUSES UNEASINESS

By EDWARD C. STRUTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Aug. 27.—A prominent citizen, Sotir Gjika, who has just returned from a visit to his native country, has faverored me with the following statement on the Balkan situation:

"The Balkan peninsula, even after the World War, constitutes a standing menace to the peace of Europe. The fundamental trouble is that the bungling re-arrangement of the Balkans, as it has emerged from the various peace treaties, places Serbia in a position of undiscussed and undeserved supremacy over the other Balkan peoples.

"Such an arrangement cannot, therefore, be regarded as lasting, because it is based on justice and utterly disregards the claims of thousands who have shed their blood for a patriotic ideal. Nevertheless, with the exception of occasional violent disturbances which take place in Jugo-Slavia between opposing tendencies and factions, it may be said that a state of calm prevails at present throughout the Balkan peninsula.

'Tis an Ominous Calm

"But 'tis only the ominous calm that precedes a storm for the downtrodden peoples, Albanians, Montenegrins, Bulgarians, etc., who have been handed over bound hand and foot to Serbia and Greece by the treaties will sooner or later rebel against their thraldom, while Serbs and Greeks, who have benefited most of all from the generosity of the victors, have no intention of giving up their ambitious designs on Albania, which they intend to cut up and share among themselves.

"Bulgaria, exhausted by the war and busily engaged in the work of reconstruction, does not deem it prudent or advisable at the present moment to turn her Macedonian 'comitajis' loose on Serbia for a final decision. The Albanian Government intent on reorganizing the country which has only just emerged from the century-long demination of the Turk, is animated by the most sincere desire for peace.

"It may even be stated that, should Greeks and Serbs withdraw beyond the frontier-line of 1913, respecting in future the Albanian frontier as laid down by the Conference of London, Albania would be only too glad to maintain an attitude of strict neutrality, devoting itself entirely to reconstructive work in the common interest of all Balkan people. In no case, however, would Albania abandon to their fate those of her children who, owing to the injustice of the Powers have remained under foreign domination.

"Frontier Warfare Ceased"

"In spite of the bellicose spirit which is one of the characteristics of all Balkan peoples, it may be said that comparative calm now reigns throughout the peninsula. Frontier warfare between Albanians and Serbs has ceased, as also has the guerrilla fighting between comitajis and Serbianan garrisons in Marcedonia. The situation has also somewhat improved in the district of Kossovo, which had always been the scene of fierce encounters between Albanian insurgents and Serbs. But the lattter have not given up their policy of systematic massacres and denationalization, ruthlessly suppressing as many Tlbanian patriots as fall into their hands.

"There are about one million Albanians in the district of Kossovo, and their presence constitutes an insurmountable obstacle to the realization of Serbia's ambitious designs in Macedonia and in Northern Albania.

"As regards the situation in Montenegro, it is extremely grave, and it is now aggregration to say that the independence of this unfortunate, and heroic little country is irremidiably compromised. Official Europe appears to have definitely accepted the accomplished fact, namely, Montenegro's forced annexation to Jugoslavia. Montenegro can only hope to reacquire its lost liberty by a general upheaval of Balkan peoples against Jugoslavia, which would have the effect of driving back the Serbs within their natural confines."

"SCRAP IRON" DRAWS CROWD

The double feature at the Palace Grand, which closes tonight, has sent many a fan away with a still greater respect for Charles Ray than ever before. His part in his latest picture, "Scrap Iron," is wonderfully portrayed and the story is one that appeals to one's better nature. It holds that bit of rustic humor that characterizes all of Ray's works.

"Miracles of the Jungle" started off with a bang, and the comments of satisfaction from those, old and young, who witnessed the first episode last night, proved it destined to be one of the most interesting serials shown in this community.

Tomorrow will be a great day for the music lovers of the community when the new Wurlitzer organ is opened. An account of the program is given elsewhere.

COMMERCIAL STREET TO HAVE RESIDENCE

Like an echo from the distant past, reads a building permit issued at the City Hall yesterday for a small residence on Commercial street. Time was, nearly 30 years ago, when this same street, on which this is the first house to be erected, was thought destined to be the main thoroughfare of the new city of West Glendale, which was to rival, on account of its location along the Southern Pacific, the little village two miles west, along the narrow gauge railroad just finished (now the Salt Lake-Union Pacific), which connected little old Glendale with Los Angeles.

The square brick building now known as the Chiglia winery, was to be the home of the new bank, with wide-arched windows and doors, since filled in with brick. The Southern Pacific built a handsome station for the new town, Commercial street was laid out, north and south, as the main highway of the new city, with Milford extending east and west and connecting with the distant parent city away over on what is now Glendale avenue. Lots were platted on both sides of Commercial street and all seemed propitious for rapid growth, when a sudden mysterious blight fell upon the new municipality, and its bright prospects faded overnight. The bank became a winery, finally, the streets were never developed, and the entire section fell into a Rip Van Winkle sleep, which was not broken for 30 years, instead of 20, as was the case with Washington Irving's fanciful character.

But in the past year and a half has come a mighty awakening and from north, south and east, the expanding city has converged upon the site of the would-be metropolis. The passenger station disappeared long ago, but a long siding, still bearing the name of "West Glendale," remains as a reminder of the vanishing hopes of almost a third of a century ago.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS DOINGS

The most cordial social relations exist between the Glendale Knights of Pythias Lodge and others in the county, and members who went from here Thursday night to be guests at the Van Nuys Lodge smoker and entertainment, report an exceedingly good time.

Thursday, September 8, the local lodge will entertain the young men of Glendale with a stag smoker and luncheon at Castle Hall, the Knights of Pythias building at the corner of Park avenue and Brand boulevard.

Never in the history of the lodge has so much enthusiasm and activity been displayed as at the present time. Members are all ready to participate in the nation-wide effort to extend the order, and Glendale has arranged for a membership drive that promises to put her at the head. A canvass of the field has shown that a membership of 1000 can be easily secured, if all the men who are or who have been interested in the order are enlisted, and two teams have been organized for this work, headed by Cal Nicholson and Ed S. Melzer, who will push the work hard.

Glendale is to participate with Los Angeles in the monster Page Rank ceremonial to be held on Admission Day at Tournament Park, Pasadena. Several candidates from this city will be initiated at that time.

WEBB PARTY RETURNS

H. S. Webb, the Glendale dry goods merchant, is just back from a most delightful outing of ten days in some of the popular northern resorts.

One of the most inspiring incidents of his trip and one that did him a world of good, was to hear the very favorable comments made about this city. He carried on his car a Glendale, Calif., banner. People would stop him and ask about this wonderful city and its great growth.

There were six in the party, and they camped and stopped at hotels along the route. From Glendale they went to the Yosemite Valley, visiting all points of interest, including Troga Pass and Lake Tahoe, and at times were over 10,000 feet high, seeing much snow. Fishing was enjoyed and there were no accidents to mar the pleasure of the vacation days.

ALL-DAY MEETING OF N. P. BANKS POST WELL ATTENDED

The all-day meeting of N. P. Banks Post and Corps yesterday was a big affair, covers being laid for about 200 at the noon luncheon.

The regular routine marked the business session of the post in the forenoon, and the afternoon program was informal and impromptu, but was more enjoyable because of its surprises.

Chaplain C. R. Norton was asked to preside, and after the opening of the session by the singing of "America," he called upon several of those present for entertaining numbers.

Mrs. Myra Shuey was one, who responded with a charming original poem entitled "The Golden Gates."

The post poet, Comrade Spafford, also gave a beautiful, original poem on "Visions."

Mrs. Ella Richardson told an incident of street car travel.

Past Commander C. H. Clark and his bride each made brief addresses.

Comrade Moss, a newcomer, made a little talk, and two verses of "The Star-Spangled Banner" were sung.

The story of two little boys, entitled "Hero," was told with great spirit by Mrs. Flora Pixley.

Comrade Thayer recited incidents in his own experience in the Civil War.

Beore the meeting opened, the cakes and pies left from the dinner were auctioned off.

After the program the corps held a business session at which several candidates were initiated.

THIEVES LOSE NERVE AND ABANDON CAR

John A. Barnes of 622 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles, notified the police yesterday afternoon, that his Mitchell car, license number 605,513, engine number 77,080, had disappeared from Brand and Wilson avenue, where he parked the car.

A little later a Mitchell, bearing the license number 305,613, and engine number 77,080, was found parked at Brand and Doran street. It is thought by the police that the car had been stolen, but that the thief or thieves weakened before they had gone far, and abandoned it. Mr. Barnes simmply forgot his license number when he phoned in his report, and this accounts for his having given it wrong.

GLENDALIAN GROWS CORN

A shining example of intensive culture of the soil can be seen at 233 South Jackson street, where Mrs. F. B. Mattice has worked early and late this summer on her vegetables and flowers. A conspicuous feature is a small patch of corn which reminds an Illinoisan of scenes along the "banks of the Wabash," with stalks 12 or 13 feet tall and with ears so high up in the air that it takes a six-footer to reach them.

Then there's quite an array of pole beans, many other vegetables, and some melons. Chrysanthemums border the walk and two tall stalks of golden-rod in full bloom are at either side of the porch. Other beautiful flowers are in evidence. Every square foot of ground in this little spot of about 50 by 100 feet seems to bear its load of planted life.

The greatest zinc mine in the world, located in Sussex county, New Jersey, has been worked almost continuously since colonial days.

China's famous grand canal, built in 486 B. C., is to be rebuilt and modernized by American engineers.

WALLACE H. FLEER BUYS SHOE STORE IN GLENDALE

For Many Years in Clothing and Shoe Business in Los Angeles

Wallace H. Fleer, who for the past thirteen years has been in the clothing and shoe business in and around Los Angeles, has purchased the Carney shoe store at 112 East Broadway. Mr. Fleer says that for years he has wanted to come to Glendale, but up to this time there seemed to be nothing in the way of a change for him. But here is here now and he intends to stay here. Right now he is trying to find something to rent, but, as are many others, he is having considerable trouble in getting located. It is Mr. Fleer's intention to soon purchase his own home and become a genuine Glendalite.

SEMI-MONTHLY CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

Members of the Semi-Monthly Club were entertained yesterday at the home of Mrs. John Houle, 122 East Maple avenue, where a delicious luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock. The hostess had beautifully decorated her home with dahlias, reserving the yellow one for her luncheon table.

The afternoon was devoted to whist, Mrs. Mary Ruprecht securing first prize—a hand painted cup and saucer. Upon the hostess was bestowed a hand-painted vase.

Ladies present were: Mesdames H. M. Doll, J. O'Neill Farrell, Mary Ruprecht, Jessie Chappius, Mary O'Brien, Peter Ferry, Fred Huseman, Charles Rudell, John Lundregan, Carrie Schmidt, and Miss Ruprecht. Guests of the day were Mrs. Martha Gibson, Mrs. Jensing, and Mrs. W. W. Hamilton.

Mrs. Lundregan entertained with several piano numbers and the party was in all respects a delightful affair.

ORANGE RESIDENTS WANT TO IMPROVE

A petition for the improvement of a portion of Orange Grove avenue, signed by Hugh M. McDonald, 1213 East Colorado boulevard and ten other property owners, was presented to the City Council last night. The petition read as follows:

The undersigned owners of property fronting on Orange Grove avenue between Adams street and Verdugo road, hereby petition your honorable body to take the necessary proceedings for the improvement of said street in accordance with the specifications for the construction of an oiled gravel roadway, curb, sidewalk and a four-inch water pipe."
